

Young Scientist Awards

The EFP offers Young Scientist Awards (YSA) to stimulate young parasitologists and thus contribute to the advancement of parasitological research in Europe.

(<https://www.eurofedpar.eu/efp-awards-scholarships/>)

At EMOP XIV, up to three prizes will be awarded for original research work in parasitology (500 € each). Prizes also include a diploma and a refund of the EMOP registration fees.

Candidates must be less than 35 years old and be members of an EFP member society (<https://www.eurofedpar.eu/member-societies/>) members of suspended societies cannot apply.

The paper must be first-authored by the candidate and presented in oral form at EMOP XIV. The research must have been based at an institution of an EFP member country.

How to apply:

The following documents must be submitted:

1. The completed application form, signed by the candidate and the head of the department where the research was done. (download application form)
2. A short manuscript (of three pages plus references) describing the work. The manuscript should not have been published before and is only for the information of the jury. The candidate should be the first author of the manuscript.
3. Proof of registration for the congress. At registration, the EMOP organizers should be informed of the intention to apply for the award.
4. Proof of age (e.g. ID, passport) and society membership, and a short curriculum vitae (one page).

The paper will be orally presented (15 min) by the candidate in a special session organized during EMOP XIV. This condition is mandatory for the award selection.

Form, manuscript and accompanying information are to be sent as email attachment (pdf) to:

1st Vice-President: Isabelle VILLENA ivillena@chu-reims.fr

2nd Vice-President: Bonnie WEBSTER b.webster@nhm.ac.uk

Treasurer: Laura RINALDI lrinaldi@unina.it

Deadline: 26 July 2024

Awards will be presented at the closing ceremony of EMOP.

EFP Scholarships

Young parasitologists are encouraged to participate in European meetings and to contribute to the development of parasitology in Europe.

To support participation of young researchers, at EMOP XIV the European Federation of Parasitologists grants up to 20 student scholarships covering the registration fees. Travel and accommodation expenses are not covered by the grant.

Application is open to students (up to PhD / doctorate level) up to the age of 30 years, who are members of a member society of the EFP (<https://www.eurofedpar.eu/member-societies/>); members of suspended member societies cannot apply. Applicants should participate in parasitological research carried out in an EFP member country and are required to give a presentation at EMOP XIV, either orally or by poster.

Ten of these scholarships are targeted for members of societies from lower income countries (see EMOP XIV registration page: <https://emop2024wroclaw.eu/registration/>).

How to apply:

The following documents must be submitted:

1. The completed application form, signed by the candidate and the head of the department where the research was carried out. (download application form)
2. Proof of registration for the congress. At registration, the EMOP organizers should be informed of the intention to apply for the scholarship.
3. Proof of age (e.g. ID, passport), society membership and student status (copies of documents) and a short curriculum vitae (one page).
4. Proof of acceptance of abstract that will be presented by the candidate at EMOP XIV for either oral or poster presentation. In case there are more applicants than available scholarships, applicants having oral presentations will be prioritized. This presentation is a mandatory condition for the scholarship selection.

Form and accompanying information are to be sent as a single-file email attachment to:

1st Vice-President: Isabelle VILLENA ivillena@chu-reims.fr

2nd Vice-President: Bonnie WEBSTER b.webster@nhm.ac.uk

Treasurer: Laura RINALDI lrinaldi@unina.it

Deadline: 12 July 2024

Successful applications will be announced ahead of the conference and registration fees will be refunded on site during EMOP XIV In Wroclaw.
